Ulster Architectural Heritage is seeking a Heritage Projects Officer for the Heritage: In Your Hands project on a fixed term contract, until 31st December 2022. In this role, you will lead on helping people and communities to read, record, research and respond to their local built heritage. This will be through the development of a suite of traditional and technological public participation tools including short guides, and associated toolkit and a heritage recording and reporting app; You will also lead on provision of associated promotional events and outreach activity to general public and local communities across NI in the form of launch events, networking events, roadshows, workshops, competitions and exhibitions.

Ulster Architectural Heritage acknowledges with thanks support from the National Lottery Heritage Lottery Fund, (NLHF) for the Heritage: In Your Hands project and this appointment.

About Ulster Architectural Heritage:

Ulster Architectural Heritage (UAH) is the lead independent voice for the promotion of built heritage, its protection, conservation and regeneration in Northern Ireland, and across the 9 counties of Ulster. We work to defend Northern Ireland's historic buildings and promote appreciation, preservation and conservation of these precious historic assets.

About the Heritage: In Your Hands project:

The 'Heritage: In Your Hands', (HIYH), project is a dedicated programme to develop a framework to help people and communities to take the lead in activities to highlight, protect, conserve and regenerate historic buildings, across Northern Ireland. From traditional to technological, the project aims to transform the way UAH works to support people and communities to engage with the historic environment in NI. Over a 3 year period, the HIYH project will provide a programme that combines the reinvigoration of traditional means of heritage engagement and outreach, with the introduction of a new range of digital engagement models and technologies, to better connect people and communities with built heritage.
